this morning with all the members present. Lieutenant Lemly, the judge-advocate, read the record of last Thursday, Friday and Saturday's sessions.

Among the spectators present were Cap-tain James A. Greer, U. S. N., of Arctic fame; Rear Admiral C. R. P. Rodgers, Paymaster James N. Watmough, Medical Director Albert L. Gibon and a number of ballos.

After the reading of the 61 specifications

After the reading of the 61 specifications ex-Secretary Chandler was called from the office of Surgeon-General Gunnell as the first witness and was sworn by Admiral Simpson. He knew Medical Director Wales, who was Surgeon-General until January 24, 1884, and preferred the charges against him. Asked as to his knowledge as to the charges and specifications which he preferred, Judge Wilson of counsel for the Judge Wilson of counsel for the defense objected to the testimony as immaterial. Mr. Sands of the prosecution urged that it was material, as they would show that ex-Secretary Chandler had knowledge of the matters charged within less than three years before the charge were preferred.

After argument the objection was over-ruled, and Mr. Chandler stated that he had first knowledge of the Carrigan francis in the winter of 1883-4. He received the first information by anonymous letter in the fall of 1883 and turned it over to Dr

Opposing Montgomery's Appointment.

The opponents of Mr. Zachary Montgomery's appointment as an assistant attorney-general have presented their objections very strongly to the President, and one of them had a long interview with him for that purpose last night. The opposition is based almost exclusively upon Montgomery's attacks upon the public school system. Two publications bearing his name have been withdrawn from the Congressional library to be used against him. One of these is a pamphiet treatise on the public school system as the antiparental system of education and one de-Opposing Montgomery's Appointment. parental system of education and one de-lining the right of parents to control their children. It is entitled "The Poison Founchildren. It is entitled "The Poison Fountain" and describes the public school system as a breeding place of crime. Another Candidate for Recorder. Another Candidate for Recorder.
Said a propinent Democrat of Washington to a Critic reporter to-slay: "The people of Washington were gratified when President Cleveland announced that the local offices at the National Capital would be given to bona fide citizens of the District of Columbia. Now, many of our tax-paying residents are considerably disturbed at the rumor that Louis Schade of Virginia is being urged for the position of Recorder of Deeds by Secretary Rayard and a few other politicians. Mr. Schade is a citizen of Virginia, and exercises the full political rights and privileges accorded to citizens of that Commonwealth; he is only a sojourner at Washington during only a sojourner at Washington during the winter. This, of course, puts Mr. Schade outside of the just and fair rule laid down by the President in regard to filling local offices, and I believe President Cleveland will adhere to his original position as of right and in his constitution as of right and in his constitution as of right and in his constitution. position as of right and in justice to the citizens of the District of Columbia.

Both the Prisoners Sentenced to Penal Servitude for Life-Their Speeches to the Court - Minister Phelps Present in the Court This Morning.

London, May 18. Judge Hawkins began his charge to the jury in the case of Cum-ningham and Borton, the alleged dynamiters, immediately on the assembling of the court this morning. He explained the law with regard to the charge against the prisoners, and carefully analyzed the evidence against Burton. He laid particular stress on Burton's statements and urged the jury to weigh carefully the evidence brought forward by the Crown with re gard to the movements and doings of this man since his arrival in England. In reviewing Burton's statements, Judge Hawkins asserted that there could be no doubt of its falsity.

"It was made," he said, "after the prisoner had heard all the evidence and when he found no contradiction." "Burton," he continued, "made this statement in spen yeart, and was not only unsworn to, but was unsupported by any evidence.

The Jusige concluded by "haracterizing the whole proceeding on the part of Burton as astounding.

U.S. Minister Phelps was present in court during the delivery of the Jusige's charge. He was dressed in a morning stit and listened intently. He scened much impressed by the points made in the Judge's analysis of the testimony.

At the conclusion of Jusige Hawkins charge the jury retired. They were absent only a short time when they returned with a verdict finding both prisoners guilty as charged in the indictment.

On the amouncement of the vertict, the Judge immediately sentenced boil Cunningham and Burton to penal servitude for life. Congressman John J. Cunningham and Burton to pennetude for life.

When the question "has the prisoner at the bar anything to say as to why sentence should not now be passed upon him?" Cunningham leaned forward and vigorously protested his innowence. He thanked his counsel and his friends and concluded his remarks with the bitter exclanation: "You may destroy my body, but it is impossible for you to hurt my soul." Then Burton's turn came. He also protested his innovence. "English The employes of the Treasurer's office bid farewell to ex-Treasurer Wyman on Saturday, and yesterday he left with his family for Omaha. The best heef-and-toe record for six days I made in 1878 when I won the Astley belt in London and made 5201 miles. There were fineteen Englishmen in the race and I alone represented America, The year before Weston and I walkest for $2,000 a side and I downed him in London. For the week's work I received a check on the bank of bondon for $14,000. The winner received two-thirds of the receipts after paying expenses. I made $20 and Weston all miles.

"I think Weston and I will have another race some time next fall, either at New York, Chiengo, St. Louis or San Francisco. Weston is still a good man, He is as sprightly as the best and has caused more interest in walking than any other man in the country. Of all the transpers living the only one that is wealthy is Rowell, and he is probably worth $80,000. He handles it very earcfully and never speculates. Six years years ago I had $150,000. QUITE A LITTLE STIR,

MR, FRED DOUGLASS AT DR. SUN-DERLAND'S CHURCH,

The Sensation Exaggorated by a Morning Paper - What Mr. Douglass Says-He Can't See Why So Blg a Fuse About So Small a Matter

Hon. Frederick Douglass, Recorder of Deeds, accompanied by his wife, occupied pew in Dr. Sunderland's Church yester lay in the vicinity of what is known as the President's pew. Mr. Douglass naturally attracted the attention of the congregation It has been stated that many of the pew olders of this church were very indigand because he was there and that after be services they openly expressed their celling-to that effect. Dr. Sunderland and the officers of the chyrch deny this. Mr. Douglass was seen church deny this. Mr. Douglass was seen to day by The Curric reporter and was asked about an article which was printed in a morning paper in regard to his presence at Dr. Sunderland's church yesterday. Mr. Douglass said: "I regard the article in the Post as inspired by some of the applicants for the office of Recorder who have seized upon the simple matter of my going into a Christian church to hear the gospel preached as a means of to bear the gospet preached as a means of exciting popular projudicy against me, and then unke my removal from office and then make my removal from office easy and certain.

"Is it not strange that I who can go into a concert focus, or theatre, or circus, enter the Senate chamber and go on the floor of the House of Representatives, and attend the receptions of the President of the United States, should cause division and indignation among men by simply going into a Christian church among people who profess to be followers of Jesus, who when among men chose his companions and disciples from among the humblest classes of society?

"The statement in the Past is untrue in many particulars. It is not true that I have by myself or by anybody else rented a powin Dr. Sanderland's church. It is not true that I went there to obtain favor from the powers that be. It is not true that there was any more visible sensation produced by my presence than would have been produced by the presence of any other noted stranger who might have entered that congregation.

other noted stranger who might have en-tered that congregation.

"I went to that church just as I some-times attend All-Souls" Church, the Con-gregational Church and as I have been in-vited to attend the Metropolitan Church.
It is quite true that several years ago some-of the members of Dr. Sunderland's church did take offense at my being allowed to de-liver a lecture in it on the "Assassimation of Mr. Lincoln and its Lessons."

of Mr. Lincoln and its Lessons.

'I there spoke to a very large congregation, and was introduced by Chief Justice Chase. I learned afterwards that some members of Dr. Sunderland's church took oftense at my being permitted to speak in their church. I went off, and until yesterday never afterwards ventured within its walls. I have purposely kept away, because I did not wish to embarrass a brave and good man by causing further brave and good man by causing further trouble in his church by any word of mine THE RESERVOIR TRAGEDY.
